"MY UNCLE FROM JAPAN."

A Brief Summary of Events that
Take Place in This Beautiful
Three Act Comedy

TEMPLE THEATRE, SATURDAY NIGHT

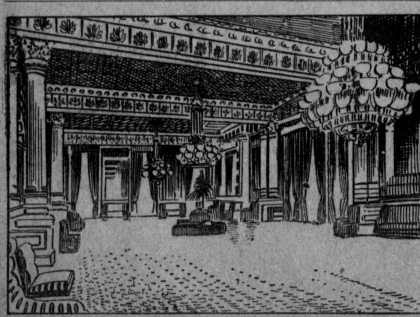

Uncle Obadiah Dawson, having seen a photograph of Clarice Dalroy, fell in love with it, sent his nephew, Capt. Robert Rackett, to investigate and see if she was really as pretty as her picture and arrange for his marriage to her. Bob went, found that she was all this and even more; proposed on his own account and married her himself. In the meantime Bob writes his uncle that Clarice is not at all like the picture and that her father was a bankrupt, etc. Uncle Obadiah is very grateful to his nephew for all this, goes to Japan to live a quiet and peaceful life. Bob, after marrying Clarice and thinking he had fooled his uncle so completely, takes her to visit his old friend and schoolmate, Timothy Tolman.

Timothy's home is a lovely place on the Hudson near New York. He married for money and is sorry for it. He finds Mrs. Rackett's company very enjoyable except when his guardian angel interferes and makes things very unpleasant for her Timmy.

When all seems lovely and not a cloud appears to mar his happiness, Bob receives a letter from Uncle Obadiah, (but he failed to see the P. S. to the letter explaining that he had decided to make a flying trip to New York) until it was too late to get his wife out of the way, for it would never do for Uncle Obadiah to see Clarice. This throws things into a panic and Bob has to do some tall oiling. He succeeds in making Uncle Obadiah believe that Clarice is a lunatic and makes Clarice believe that Uncle Obadiah is a raving maniac. One lie brings on another, and another, until he is compelled to send his wife to New York until he makes way with his uncle. He persuades Tim to go with her to her father's. Tim is a little shaky on the account, but he goes. They go to a theatre and to the cafe afterwards where he gets beastly drunk, loses Clarice and "he don't go home till morning."

Uncle Obadiah sees Clarice at the cafe and when he returns he tells Bob that he saw the original of the photograph and was going to hunt her up and marry her. Clarice unexpectedly returns from New York and makes more misery for Bob. Uncle Obadiah and Clarice come face to face and the mystery is solved and they at last understand the situation and set about to punish Bob. She makes him believe that she smokes, drinks and is up to anything awful. After punishing Bob awhile and giving Uncle Obadiah a round on the side and Mrs. Tolman learns that her Timmy is not so bad after all, etc., everything is serene.

MAGNIFICENT EAST ROOM OF THE WHITE HOUSE. In Which the Longworth-Roosevelt Marriage Ceremony Occurs.

This magnificent room has been the scene of many brilliant social functions extending over a period of many years since the rebuilding of the White House in 1818. It is here the president's receptions are held, and it is in this room that several of the previous White House weddings have occurred. The room is being decorated for those occasions, and especially was this true at the time of the marriage of the daughter of President Grant. It is magnificent in proportions, as well as in decoration, being 60 by 80 feet.

WHITE HOUSE WEDDING OVERSHADOWS OTHER EVENTS.

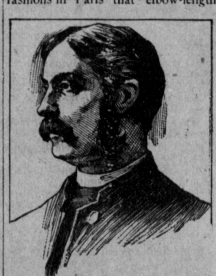

President Wants Strenuous Camp Life for Army and Guardsmen.

Washington, Feb. 12. (Special.)—The White House wedding is the topic that overshadows all others this week. The dressmakers here and in New York are working overtime on marvellous "creations" in order to have them ready for the great event. Miss Roosevelt's wedding dress is nearly completed among others. It is said to be a marvel of embroidery, but otherwise it is severe. The material is heavy cream sat in closely woven with threads of silver, and according to expert authority, it will have "a yoke and high collar of old rose point lace. A six-inch wide ruffle of the same lace will edge the elbow sleeves, the customary full length sleeves giving away in this instance to the elbow-length, in view of the insistent instructions from the originators of fashions in Paris that elbow-length sleeves shall dominate in everything, not excepting wedding gowns. A flounce of old point lace will be the only decoration of the full skirt. The train of square design, lined with cream taffeta silk, will complete the wedding costume." This is the official description by the modiste. Incidentally Miss Roosevelt will wear the wedding veil that her mother was married in. And alas there will be no official list of wedding presents! It will probably always remain unknown whether or not the gifts of a sympathetic world will reach the total of $1,000,000, 'as has been reported, but it is now considered likely that history will repeat itself and this amount will dwindle down something after the manner of the total of the gifts brought back from the Philippines, which from several hundred thousand dollars came down to two thousand dollars.

The House in passing the Hepburn rate bill surprised nobody. It did just what was expected of it, but the measure is regarded as a piece of political expediency by many who know how the land lies. There was a general scramble to climb onto the wagon, and the votes of some are doubtless accounted for in the explanation of Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio who, feeling that the iron clad rule of no amendment made it useless to consider the bill, said that it would be better to pass it along to the Senate where it would receive sane treatment. The measure was bitterly attacked and in failing to provide for any appeal from the rulings of the commission shows a weakness which will probably be its undoing in the Senate. The President in his messages has twice advocated judicial review of the commission's findings and this fact together with a like feeling in the Senate will, it is believed, produce a bill providing for such a review.

Dr. H. W. Wiley of the department of agriculture, is beginning to think that this world is a hollow sham after all. Last week he purchased some lamb chops from a local butcher only to learn on reaching home that one of the chops at least had never grown on a lamb since it was visibly manufactured by fastening a piece of meat of questionable age and origin, to a bone of the desirable shape. The horror of the fraud so worked upon the doctor that when he attended the Columbia Heights Citizens' meeting the other night, called to discuss the street car service, he waved that subject aside as too trivial and painted a mournful picture of adulterated and impure food. He explained that tainted milk killed at least two million people and shuddered at the thought.

"I am almost afraid to go to the table," said he. "The butter is painted, canned goods are kept for years and other food fraught with germ of a harmful nature."

"Humph!" said a listener "that man needs a dose of sarsaparilla."

But the doctor is still gloomy.

The court martial which has been making things lively for the midshipmen at Annapolis who have attempted to educate the under class men to the benefits of hazing, has adjourned in order that the annual graduation exercises may take place. On Monday 106 future admirals will be

FOR STARVING JAPAN.

Funds Are Being Raised Locally by Miss Alice Miller.

MOST WORTHY RELIEF MOVEMENT.

For more than a month past American missionaries and Christian natives in Japan have written of the prevalence of famine conditions in the Northern Provinces of the Mikado's empire. In the great war with Russia, Japanese farmers left their fields and their homes by tens of thousands to follow the standards of their country, and to prevent it and the whole of Western Asia from falling under the power of Russia. At what fearful cost the war was carried on the rest of the world will never know. The old men, women and children who were left behind made a brave but ineffectual struggle for existence, but are now the victims of pinching poverty and must depend, at least until the next small crops are made, upon charity.

Conservative estimates show that there are over 960,000 persons in Northern Japan who are now suffering from actual starvation. The Japanese government is doing all it can through a relief system to relieve the suffering; but the long war which robbed Japan of thousands of her bravest sons, has so depleted the national resources that the help afforded from that quarter is quite inadequate. Therefore the missionaries have appealed for aid from America as the friend of Japan. An urgent appeal for aid has recently been sent out from Japan signed by a committee of missionaries representing the various churches at work in the field.

This appeal takes on a local interest for the people of Earlington and surrounding towns, for the reason that Miss Alice Miller, so well known and well beloved by our people, recently returned from her labors as a missionary in Japan, is actively interested in this relief movement. The BEE urges all those who can contribute to this fund to do so now. Miss Miller has already forwarded at least one remittance to Japan and has some other money in her hands which she hopes will be added to, so that a snug sum may be sent within the next week. We suggest that friends see Miss Miller and talk with her and give her their contributions. Or contributions of any amount will gladly be received by the editor of THE BEE, from those who may find this more convenient, and such contributions will be placed in Miss Miller's hands to be forwarded for relief of the suffering Japanese.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. O'Brien entertained quite a number of their friends at their beautiful home on Parren avenue last Friday evening; cards being the chief amusement.

Delightful refreshments of three courses were served, after which the guests departed with many pleasant memories of the evening.

Lincoln's Birthday Celebrated.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 12.—The legislative bodies of Kentucky and its officials fittingly observed the birthday of Abraham Lincoln by a joint meeting in the hall of the House of Representatives this afternoon. The Senate transacted no business during the day. A set programme was carried out. The chief speakers of the day were Chief Justice J. P. Hobson, of the Kentucky Court of Appeals; State Senator Benjamin Sewell, of Wolfe City, and President H. K. Taylor, of Louisville.

Wisdom is knowing what to do next; skill is knowing how to do it, and virtue is doing it.—Jordan.

Embroidery Club Entertains.

The Earlington Embroidery Club, twelve in number, gave a delightful and unique entertainment at the residence of Mrs. Douglas O'Brien Wednesday night. The ladies gathered first at Miss Mollie Whalen's, put on their costumes and masked. Their escorts, who were supposed to come unmasked to the Whalen residence and select the one he thought who accompanied him there and take her to the O'Brien residence. But the surprise of the ladies can well be imagined when the gentlemen came in masked and otherwise disguised. It was indeed ludicrous to see the vain attempts made to select the original escorts. After a great deal of fun and merriment the various members were mated and proceeded to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. O'Brien where they enjoyed themselves in many ways until a late hour. The most delightful refreshments were served and relished. The twelve invited guests were unanimous in their declaration that this was the most enjoyable entertainment ever given here and that the Embroidery Club would long be remembered with pleasure.

Sup't Logsdon Says Passenger Station at That Place Will be Improved.

THINKS BUMS AND LOAFERS SHOULD BE SUPPRESSED.

Sup't Logsdon, of the L. & N., in a letter to City Clerk Brown, of Madisonville, says the passenger station will be improved but does not say just what the improvement will consist of. Following is the letter:—"Evansville, Ind., Feb. 9.—Mr. James L. Brown, Madisonville, Ky., Dear Sir: I have your favor of the 7th inst. enclosing request from the mayor and members of the city council for additional facilities for accommodation of passenger service in your city.

"We have in mind some changes to be made in connection with other work there in the near future by which additional conveniences will be obtained, and which, when completed, will satisfy, we trust, those who now complain. I would like to suggest that if your people will prevent the congregating of the objectionable element on the platform at and immediately preceding the arrival of trains, there will be less inconvenience to our patrons and the good people of Madisonville. I think if you will ask the agent he will inform you that with but rare exceptions, say Fourth of July, circus and Indian fair, there are ample seats in any three of the waiting rooms to care for all the passengers booked for any one train. We are not expected, nor do we wish to furnish shelter and seats for the loafers, and I think you will bear me out in the statement that but for these, and those who simply visit the station to see and be seen, there would be ample room on the platform and during inclement weather in the station, for those having business there. However, as stated in the beginning, it is our intention to make improvements that will be in keeping, in our opinion, with your city's advancement, but we hope you and your good people will endeavor to keep the loafers and other objectionable characters, as much as possible, from the platform."

Wisdom is knowing what to do next; skill is knowing how to do it, and virtue is doing it.—Jordan.

BOOKWOOD, CONGRESSMAN LONGWORTH'S HOME IN CINCINNATI.

The beautiful old home over which the daughter of President Roosevelt will preside was one of the first of the new many fine residences to grace the Grandin road, the center of the aristocratic section of Cincinnati. The house is not particularly imposing, but it is surrounded by beautiful grounds, and the combination of good things with rare taste. Here Congressman Longworth has lived with his mother who is counted one of the most gracious of the hostesses of Cincinnati.

For an hour and a half Thursday night the moon was in full eclipse. It entered in the first stage of the eclipse about 11:38 o'clock and emerged from the shadow at 4:37 a. m. Very few people here witnessed the occurrence on account of the late hour at which the eclipse took place. The moon was still visible when entirely eclipsed, this probably being due to the refraction of the sun's rays through the atmosphere. This being the first eclipse of the year, was especially important to all the astronomers.

"Two Merry Tramps."

So many musical comedies are built without rhyme or reason that the public have in general come to the conclusion that the only make up is the opening and closing speech. Wood & Ward realizing this state of affairs cast about for a comedy which would have an original plot, and dialogue that would necessitate the introduction of either a chorus or pretty girls or a number of vaudeville acts to make it a success, in "Two Merry Tramps" they found just what they were looking for, with the vehicle of their desire at hand they engaged a strong singing company, six high class vaudeville acts, and a chorus of handsome girls, next special scenery were provided for each act, and singing number, wardrobe and gowns which are marvels to the dressingmaking and costuming art. This attraction will be seen at the Temple Theatre Feb. 21. Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or "curing" coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and tonic. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it will not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchitis and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most valuable service. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is not for sale.

Address: Dr. J. C. Felt, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and secretly confidential. Address Dr. J. C. Felt, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on request of a letter to pay postage by mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 21 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

OLLIE JAMES' AMENDMENT.

tion of which Mr. Bennett is a member has prepared a bill which will shortly be brought before the House. The President is strongly in favor of the measure.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Wallace, in his testimony before the Senate Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals this week shed some light on his opinion of the relative values of a commissioner at Panama and one who stays at home. He told the members of the committee that $30,000 was not too much to pay Mr. Stevens for the responsibility and the work. On the other hand he said that the commissioners who remained in Washington were well enough paid.

"Then Mr. Stevens would get as much as six of the Senators present" queried Senator Morgan.

"I presume so; and he earns it."

"We are getting all we are willing to take" replied the Senator.

"I doubt that," answered Mr. Wallace, a reply that caused a shout of laughter.

President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Taft will bring all possible pressure to bear on Congress to have it appropriate $1,000,000 so that the regular army may live under canvas for two months this year. They are willing to go on record as asking for $1,200,000 so that the National Guardsmen of the several states may be included in the outing, which will not be anything in the nature of a summer vacation, however. The army will undergo all the hardships it would meet with in times of actual war, except the privations caused by an enemy. The President would have the infantry march 300 miles to camp, and the same distance on their way back. The cavalry would be compelled to ride 300 miles there and the same distance on the return. The benefits derived by the militia through its two-month's association with the regulars, would be great.

Representatives from Kentucky and Tennessee took a prominent part in the debate prior to the passage of the Hepburn rate bill. Mr. James offered an amendment making it unlawful for any officer, director, or stockholder of any corporation engaged as a common carrier to contribute to any political fund. As there are some 300,000 railroad stockholders the amendment would have had a sweeping effect. Mr. Gaines offered an anti-pass amendment which caused some amusement as he insisted in discussing its merits, and was continuously and hilariously applauded.

"You must all have your passes in your pockets" he ejaculated shaking his finger toward the republican side. On a vote both amendments were of course defeated according to the agreement of the committee.

Appointments in Kentucky and Tennessee have been few this week. The Senate has received, however, nominations as follows: Jacob B. Goffman to be postmaster at Russellville, Ky., and Robert F. Hann to be postmaster at Milan, Tenn.

TWO CASES OF SMALLPOX.

Madisonville Officials Taking Care to Prevent Further Spread.

CAUGHT FROM ITALIAN LABORERS.

Two cases of smallpox resulted at Madisonville from the passage some three weeks ago of the band of infected Italian laborers through there to work on the railroad grading near Providence. Both are distinctly traceable to this source of infection and the health authorities are looking after them carefully to prevent any further spread of the disease. It would be a great misfortune if this malady should spread at this time of year, as it would mean a fight on into summer and a great loss in many ways to the community.

The two cases are Bob Hall and Bishop Witherspoon. Mr. Hall was night operator there. Young Witherspoon was a messenger boy employed about the telegraph office, and is a brother of Elmer Witherspoon, of this place.

Mr. D. M. Wooldridge, the railroad agent at Madisonville, who was ill and feared the disease was smallpox, is out after a slight illness and fright.

There was a rumor yesterday of a third case but the rumor seems unfounded.

They never gripe or sicken, but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills relieve headache, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, torpid liver, sallow complexion, etc. Try Little Early Risers.

FOR A LOUISVILLE MEET.

Indiana is a good place to go, as the Executive Committee of the National Editorial Association proved again last week. But good old Louisville, Kentucky's famed metropolis, with her unlimited resources for business or pleasure and her thoroughly alive organizations of vigorous and young business men, can compress more pleasant and profitable entertainment into a brief space of time—even on short notice—than any city in the South—that section famed in song and story, where hearty hospitality found its birth. Louisville has invited the National Association to a future meeting there and a Louisville invitation is seldom long put aside. The editor of The Bee looks with pleasure to this national gathering on Kentucky soil as a foregone conclusion, at such time as the invitation can be accepted.

HELP FOR THE HELPLESS.

Announcement is made in this issue of a relief movement for benefit of starving Japanese who are the victims of cruel war. The occasion is urgent and every mite contributed will multiply in purchasing power on its way to the Orient. Miss Alice Miller, so well known to Earlington and Hopkins county people, and but recently returned from the Japanese missionary field, is receiving and forwarding funds contributed for this purpose. Read the announcement and do what you can to help.

The Bee distinctly endorses the following utterance, written by a gentleman, in the Courier-Journal:

With due regard for all of our contemporaries, it might not be amiss to suggest that some of them should show a greater respect for the President's daughter and her fiancé. More than one American newspaper has been guilty of a flippant familiarity, a senseless vulgarity and a reprehensible rudeness that do them no credit. In the name of journalism, we beg of these offenders to forego such ways, and treat Miss Roosevelt and Mr. Longworth with more dignity. Good grace and good manners, to say nothing of fair play demand it.

But there is, in this instance, the misfortune of glaring inconsistency between the editorial and news columns of the Courier-Journal. Only last Sunday a Washington correspondent of that newspaper was decidedly guilty of just the things the editor criticized in a previous number. And that was but a repetition of the correspondent's established habit in reference to Miss Roosevelt. It is to be hoped that the editorial policy of the Courier-Journal will reach as far as Washington, or at least to the proofreader's desk.

The editor of The Bee is one of those who regrets very much to see Arthur Ford quit the newspaper field for a business career, notwithstanding the fact that his election to the office of treasurer of the Columbia Finance and Trust Co., of Louisville, puts him in a preferred position among business locals. It is too bad to waste such good newspaper talent on a plain business proposition.

TOM TAGGART, of Indianapolis and French Lick, has the scalps of the Executive Committee of the National Editorial Association.

tion, it was only a friendly bout and lasted, for most of the party, little over twenty-four hours, but he raised their hair—through the gentle art of hearty entertaining. The newspaper boys and girls who are to have the good fortune to visit French Lick at the national gathering in June may look forward to an exceptionally good time.

The dispatches state that William Jennings Bryan, at a dinner given him in China, spoke so strongly in favor of the Chinese exclusion laws that Chinese agitators have used his utterances to further stir up the anti-American boycott movement.

WANTED FOR FORGERY.

Sick Negro Eludes Madisonville Police and Escapes.

Dr. Echols, a well dressed negro hailing from Mt. Vernon, and his wife had been visiting at Madisonville several days. Monday afternoon Echols purchased a ticket for Bowling Green and while in the waiting room was seen by Policeman McGary who at once sized him up as the man wanted by Mt. Vernon. For forgery. McGary called to Policeman Mays to watch the men while he telephoned for the chief of police for instructions. The negro heard the conversation over the phone and walked out of the sitting room. On the outside he asked Mays if he would have time to go to the Lucile Hotel before the train came. On being told he would he started in a leisurely manner toward the hotel.

In the meantime McGary had finished telephoning and Mays requested him to follow and watch the suspect while he went for his gun. When Mays returned with the gun McGary could not find the doctor and could not tell what had become of him. Search was made of the house where he had been stopping and a valise containing a doctor's certificate and a suit of clothes were found. His wife also had a ticket to Bowling Green but the doctor wasn't there. City Marshal Barnett, of this place, was notified and has since been on the lookout for the alleged forger.

Baggage Room at This Place Broken Open and Value Stolen.

Several days ago the baggage room at this place was broken open. Agent W. S. Bramwell supposed that the night caller had forgotten his key and forced the door in order to get in at train time. On being questioned by the train and no more was thought of the matter until a few days ago when a check was presented for a grip and the same could not be found. It was then that City Marshal Barnett was notified and went on a still hunt for the missing baggage. The valise belonged to telegraph operator Randolph, who is an extremely fleshy man and his clothes are so large no ordinary man could wear them. This was evidently the opinion of the thief, for after examining them he threw the grip in the lime house at No. 9 apple where they were found Wednesday by Uncle Billie Radford who turned them over to City Marshal Barnett with nothing missing.

In baking powder Royal is the standard, the powder of highest reputation; found by the United States Government tests of greatest strength and purity.

It renders the food more healthful and palatable and is most economical in practical use.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy alum powders because they are "cheap." Yet some of the cheapest made powders are sold to consumers at the highest price.

Housekeepers should stop and think. Is it not better to buy the Royal and take no chances—the powder whose goodness and honesty are never questioned?

A splendid coal field in Webster county will be opened for development when the Kentucky Valley Railroad is completed. Several new mines it is understood will be opened along the line of the new road in a short time.

Twenty new mining operations have now been started in the Clear Fork coal region in Knox county, which has just been opened up for development by a fourteen-mile railroad extension from Jellico. The new coal fields are about twenty miles from Barbourville, the county seat.

Lee Hawkins, of Barsley mine, has been on the sick list these days this week.

J. W. Moore, who lives in the Kirkwood neighborhood, this county, has discovered a vein of coal on his farm which is of unusual thickness and is said to be of a superior quality. He has begun work on a slope and will soon be taking coal from the new opening. Mr. Moore is an old experienced miner and thinks the coal field he has discovered underlies that neighborhood.

Mr. James A. Toombs, of Union county moved his family to Hecla last week and accepted a position under Timberman Hall Harrison, of that place.

Some needed machinery was installed at Hecla this week by Foreman Toombs, which will greatly facilitate matters at that place.

Jas. Burns has severed his connection with the Hecla mine and moved to Herrin, Ill., to reside in the future.

Mr. Jeffries, who was injured at No. 11 mine, is getting along nicely.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION

Executive Committee Meets at French Lick Springs, Indiana.

ANNUAL MEETING JUNE 13—INVITED TO VISIT LOUISVILLE.

Fifty-two members of the Executive Committee of the National Editorial Association, some with their wives and daughters, visited French Lick Springs, Ind., last week to arrange for the annual meeting, which will be held in Indianapolis in June. At a business session Friday June 13 was the date set for the meeting, and a program for a three days' session was arranged. The editor of THE BEE had the pleasure of representing Kentucky at this meeting.

Trips will be made to Terre Haute, Linton, Bedford, French Lick, Bloomington, Lafayette, Logansport, Peru, Winona, then to Chicago and the lakes. A dinner was given by Mr. Taggart Friday evening, followed by a musicale. The committee accepted an invitation to visit Louisville Saturday, when most of the party went to Kentucky's metropolis for a brief visit. The party was met at the train by the Entertainment Committee headed by Col. Marion E. Taylor. Mayor Paul Barth was prominent among the party that received the newspaper men.

Special trolley cars were waiting and the city's guests were taken to the big Ballard flouring mills where they were shown through and given the most cordial treatment. The party was then conducted to the big new shops of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, where they saw locomotive and car building along modern and mammoth lines. After this an elaborate luncheon was served at the Seelbach Hotel. Addresses of welcome were made by President E. H. Bowen, of the Board of Trade, and Mayor Paul Barth, and an urgent invitation extended the Association to meet in Louisville in 1907.

Other speeches were made by A. Y. Ford, W. B. Haldeman and E. J. McDermott, for Louisville, and responded to by members of the association.

BARNLEY OFFICIALS BUSY.

Five Arrests Sunday Night—Pale Ale Plays Part.

Marshall Maxwell made five arrests Sunday night, said to be chiefly drunk and disorderly and incited by "pale ale." Three of the young men who made this unexpected bow to the new ordinances and town organization of Barnsley were residents of Earlington. The other two were citizens of Barnsley.

Three were tried Monday afternoon and fined from $2 to $5 and costs. The other two met their punishment at a later trial. The Barnsley city fathers say they mean to have the laws strictly enforced against all trespassers.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES.

Representative Barry Says Thousands of Dollars Paid on State Payroll.

FOR WHICH NO SERVICES HAVE EVER BEEN RENDERED.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 13.—Representative Barry started a lively debate in the House this morning by offering a resolution increasing the number of members of the investigation committee to inquire into the affairs of the State by adding R. W. Miller, Virgil McKnight, B. O. Becker and John A. Stevens.

An attempt by Tom Drewey to secure reference to the Committee on Rules, failed. Mr. Barry then demanded a roll-call on his resolution, claiming that every effort had been made to throttle his committee, and that he had been unable to secure a meeting of the committee.

"I have positive evidence," said Mr. Barry, "that hundreds, yea thousands, are being paid for services never rendered; that many men are now being carried on the State payroll who are turning over portions of their salaries to people at home in payment of ante election obligations and to keep them quiet."

The Senate Devoted the Day to the Shipping Bill and the House to Fortifications.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Aside from the time required for the transaction of routine business the entire session of the senate, Tuesday, was devoted to amendments to the shipping bill. The principal speakers were Messrs. Spooner and Allison, who criticized various features of the measure, and Mr. Cullinger, who was constantly on guard in support of the bill.

The fortifications appropriation bill held the attention of the house, and was the text for considerable heated arguments, first over the lax methods of expenditure of public moneys, and second over the location of the proposed $11,000,000 naval station for the Philippines.

THE MINERS THE OPERATORS

BOTH SIDES PREPARING FOR THURSDAY'S MEETING.

EACH HAS ITS PROGRAMME

They Are Not, However, Giving
Them Out in Advance, and Both
May be Amenable to Conciliatory Effort.

New York, Feb. 14.—The special coal committee of the anthracite mine workers, numbering 26 men, held its first meeting, Tuesday night, since coming to New York, at which it took up the demands to be presented to the operators at the conference on Thursday. The sub-committee which has had charge of getting the grievances in shape for formal presentation to the employers, held an all-day session, but was unable to complete its work, it being ordered to save time to-day, it was decided to call the full committee together Tuesday, formally to go over the work that had been completed.

President Mitchell and the other members of the committee remain silent as to the exact nature of the demands to be made. It is understood, however, that the miners will put up a strong fight for a change in the methods of the board of conciliation. The mine workers are dissatisfied with the present method of settling difficulties, and say there will always be friction until a better method of settling disputes is found. There is a growing belief that if the operators will be liberal in granting concessions to the miners, the demand for the recognition of the union will not be pressed. It is realized that it may require a considerable effort to obtain even this result.

Edward McKay, of Pittsburgh, a national organizer in the miners' union, who was sent for by Mr. Mitchell for the purpose of discussing the situation in the Pittsburgh district, is ill in a Jersey City hospital. He was taken sick on a train while en route to New York. His condition is not regarded as serious.

Have Agreed Upon a Policy.

New York, Feb. 14.—The anthracite mine operators, including the presidents of the coal carrying railroads and several independent operators, came to a general agreement Tuesday as to the policy they will pursue at the conference to be held on Thursday between themselves on the one hand and the president and other representatives of the United Mine Workers on the other. All the presidents of the anthracite roads and a number of independent operators are expected to be present, and about 15 of the miners' committee, including President Mitchell. It is expected that the miners' committee will put forward their demands at the first meeting. The intention of the operators is then to adjourn the meeting, in order to take time to consider their reply. The president of one road said that while the operators know their position, they will not act hastily, but give due consideration to the demands of the union.

"The famine situation in northern Japan is proving much more serious than at first supposed, and thousands of persons are on the verge of starvation. It is a calamity such as may occasionally befall any country.

"Nations, like men, should stand ever ready to aid each other in distress, and I appeal to the American people to help from their abundance their suffering fellow men of the great and friendly nation of Japan.

Lumor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

THE MERRY ONE.

To the village cutpurse
Must be a pleasant stunt,
To have a style that makes man smile
When you step down in front;
To cause the world to titter,
Though it is feeling blue;
To scatter chaff that it may laugh
And thus its youth renew.

The jester has his mission,
The glum must allow,
Life would be worth without his mirth
Much less than it is now.
For somehow when you're weary
He seems to lift the load
By asking why, with eager eye,
The chicken crossed the road.

A laugh is surely better
Than pain and patent pills,
And as a cure 'tis quite as sure
For many of our ills.
And he who starts the ripples
That reach clear to our socks—
Does things that make our old sides
Shake—
Beats powders in a box.

The man deserves a pension
Who drives the blues away;
He should not spoil his hands with toil
For they cost him his pay.
But as the village cutpurse
He should be given free hand
Old yarns to spin that make us grin
To beat the very band.

"Ninety cents a bushel. Apples are scarce this season, and we can hardly supply our customers."
"Well, I have a wagon load outside I want to sell you."
"Huh, well, I'll give you 25 cents a bushel if they are nice ones. Apples are a drug on the market this year."

Just Average.
We try to do the best we can,
As people always should,
But at the end we must admit,

It isn't very good.

"One been pulling your teeth?"
"Worse than that. He filled my mouth full of rubber, machinery, cement, cotton batting and other miscellaneous junk and then proceeded to tell me a funny story."

Suitable For the Climate.
"What do you think of the plan to discover the north pole by balloon?"
"Hot air!"

Easy to Suit.
"What is your ideal of a husband?"
"One who wears pants."

The Philanthropist.
It would be grand to sit and nobly plan
Your life, devoted to your fellow man;
Long years bring full of altruistic work,
No task undone, no time in waste or shirk,
No kind word left unsaid, no law defied,
To feel at least that you have nobly tried,
Indeed, it must be good to feel all this
And find elated light within your mit
A million dollars could not throw a fit—
But wouldn't it be grand?

HEPBURN RATE BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

ONLY SEVEN VOTES AGAINST IT TO TWO HUNDRED AND FORTY-SIX FOR.

The Senate Adopts a Joint Resolution,
By Mr. Tillman, Directing
Interstate Commerce Commission to Investigate Charges of Restriction of Trade.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The house Thursday passed the Hepburn railroad rate bill by a vote of 246 to 7. Those voting against the bill were: Littlefield, McCall, Perkins, Stibley, Southwick, Terrell, and Woolf.

The bill, according to Mr. Hepburn's statement, in closing the debate on the measure, was intended, and did, so far as it could be made, to comply specifically with the recommendations of President Roosevelt on the rate question. It gives the interstate commerce commission authority, when a rate has been complained of as "unreasonable" by a shipper, to investigate that rate, state whether or not unreasonable, and if so, to fix a reasonable rate.

This rate so fixed is to go into effect 30 days after it is announced by the commission, subject during the time to be set aside for the consideration of the bill or by the courts.

After it has gone into effect, it is to remain the rate for three years. During this time the commission has been expressed by those who have participated in the debate that the rate may also be reviewed by the courts, and if found to be in conflict, either with the terms of the act or with the constitution, by being confiscatory, can be set aside by the courts.

All other provisions are modifications of existing law. They include publicity of railroad methods, which is to be accomplished by prescribing a system of book-keeping and enlarging the commission to seven members, and increasing salaries of members to $10,000 a year.

To Avoid Establishing Precedent.
Washington, Feb. 9.—Although the house will not take official recognition of the wedding of Miss Roosevelt and Representative Longworth on Saturday, February 17, adjournment will be taken on Friday, February 16, until the following Monday without avowing the purpose. In this manner the house will avoid establishing a precedent.

The Urgency Deficiency Bill.
Washington, Feb. 12.—The senate passed the urgent deficiency bill practically as reported from the committee on appropriations. An attempt to strike out the provision relieving alien workmen in the Panama canal zone from the operation of the eight-hour law failed.

The President and the Senators.
Washington, Feb. 11.—President Roosevelt had a conference with Senator Hale, Representative Foss and others regarding his action at the naval academy. The president believes that dismissal is too severe a punishment for the "boys' prank" of the academy. Representative Butler, of the house naval committee, will draft a bill embracing the president's views, and believes it will be adopted at this session.

To Investigate the Railroads.
Washington, Feb. 13.—The senate adopted a joint resolution, reported by Mr. Tillman, from the committee on interstate commerce, which directs the interstate commerce commission to investigate the charges of discrimination against the railroads in the matter of trade made against the railroads.

Whipping Post Bill on the Table.
Washington, Feb. 13.—The house, after a running battle, which was brought to a close by the vote of 150 yeas and 149 nays, laid the bill to establish the whipping post in the District of Columbia on the table, by a vote of 152 to 149.
